

Hannah Bond

Hannah Bond is a Deputy Director at ActionAid UK leading their Advocacy work and is former Director of Gender Action for Peace and Security (GAPS). Hannah has worked with CSOs and government in Europe and Sub Saharan Africa. In the early stages of her career, Hannah worked for the UK Women's National Commission, focusing on Violence against Women and Girls. She has since worked for humanitarian and development NGOs in the Europe and Sub-Saharan Africa and for the British Embassy in Addis Ababa where she worked on Ethiopia, Djibouti and Somaliland. She has specialised in conflict, peacebuilding, gender equality, human rights, emergency humanitarian response, community-based development, and rights based approaches. Hannah Bond focused on conflict and gender equality in her Master's degree at King's College London